NEVADA CITY NUGGET GRASS VALLEY

A TWICE-A-WEEK NEWSPAPER MONDAY AND THURSDAY

Vol. 20, No. 86 | The County Seat Paper | NEVADA CITY-GRASS VALLEY, CALIFORNIA | The Twin Cities Paper | THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1946

BROAD STREET

By Harley M. Leete, Jr.

The other day a prominent citizen of this Twin Cities area (quit guessing—there aren't going to be any clues in this one) was telling about odd ways or earning a living. Seems this chap once earned part of his way through school cleaning cards for professional gambling joints in a California metropolis.

The old man who had the job before him was resigning it due to old age. The deal was this: the playing cards, all beat up from hard usage in poker halls, would be delivered to this one man card renovating outfit for complete rejuvenation. First they were cleaned with some kind of liquid cleaner.

Then young Mr. X took about a dozen packs and clamped them together with a vise like instrument. He ground the ragged edges off smooth on a sand wheel and finished them off fine with an emery wheel. This was a refinement of his own. His predecessor had done most of the job by hand.

The reconditioned cards were then delivered to the card sharks and distributed by him to the cheap penny ante tables. High stake games used good, newish cards and the select tables, where big operators played, had costly chips and brand new cards fresh from the package.

Monday night was so cold that a lot of car owners were caught with their radiators down and their cars froze up. The early frost cut short the brilliant period of many of our glorious fall trees, too, although the Lombardy poplars are in their pure golden prime.

If you want to develop the quality of patience, just try building something in this day and age. Another amusing (ha-ha) experience is to order something from one of the mail order houses. It'll teach you the value of shopping at home. First you see the beautiful picture in the catalog. You say to yourself, "Gee, they don't have any of those in town, I'll order it right now." So you sit down and fill out a form like an income tax return, write out a big check and mail it off right away. Then you can begin watching for the package.

You watch and watch, and pretty soon you start getting correspondence from all the mail order company. Great sheaves of vari-colored forms, all rubber stamped with interesting data, about how your item was all out of stock, sent to another warehouse to be filled out, and will be sent to you by fastest mail.

That's the first, or optimistic" wave. When the second wave hits you, there's a demand for 37c overpayment, several refunds for varying and hard-to-figure out amounts. and many notes of apology stating that "pure gossamer pants" or whatever it was you ordered are now permanently out of stock.

An acquaintance had an interesting experience involving an unpainted chest of drawers, a white toilet seat, and a mahogany finish toilet seat. and at least four pounds of mail order house correspondence, forms and rubber stamps. The affair gave promise of going on for ever. If drastic action had not been taken by this customer, it is quite possible he would still be on the receiving end of a stream of invoices, demands for return of misdirected merchandise, bills, refunds, checks in payment of overcharges, requests for small amounts of underpayment.

Shop at home.

FIREMEN STUDY LADDER USE

The training class of the Grass Valley Fire Department last evening studied the use of the new 35 foot extension ladder that was purchased with the LaFrance fire truck in August. Use and handling of shorter ladders and pompon ladders also will be demonstrated.

Susie Swift, 5, Flies to Nevada City

The 23 members of the Stockton club who flew up were so pleased with the hospitable reception they received in Nevada City that they plan to return in the near future.

Where's Elmer?

Do you mean Elmer E. Stevens, Grass Valley high school teacher and one of the main spokes in the Nevada County wheel of progress? Elmer's everywhere. If the project is a worthy one there's Elmer. If a sagging charity drive needs a shot in the arm there's Elmer.

When Elmer reaches the Pearly Gates and his record is inscribed on the golden plates the following impressive record will be bu part of the history of a citizen who has followed well the Golden Rule. We say but part for here is the life of a good citizen till the end of November 1946. Fruitful eventful years still lie ahead for one of Northern California best known men.

Elmer is as native as Alta Hill, being born in this quartz town, the son of the late John and Anna Stevens. California born, he was California educated, first locally including Mt. St. Mary's Academy followed by the Sacramento College, College of the Pacific and University of California.

Prominent then as he is now, he was active in debating society, editor of the college paper, president of Alpha Kappa Phi, and the College YMCA. Elmer's a Phi Betta Kappa and a Pi Kappa Delta, honorary forensic.

He started teaching school in Grass Valley high in 1932. Hundreds are today's citizens whose knowledge of world and local history came from Elmer's teachings. Seeing the need for better teacher relations Elmer was the organizer and a past president of the Nevada County Teacher's Association. Progressing from the knowledge gained therein he was appointed a member of the State Council of Education and a director of the California Teachers Association.

Stevens had been sought to go work for the government after completing work in the Bureau of Public Administration but chose to remain in teaching instead.

The Hnfantile Paralysis March of Dimes has been headed by Elmer Stevens for the past twelve years. Scouting, too, has been one of his projects. He served the War Manpower Commission on Specialized Personnel during the war.

Fraternally he is a member of Madison Lodge, F. & A. M. and the Native Sons of the Golden West. For 12 years he has been vestryman of Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

In the good old days before the war Elmer devoted his summers to travel and week ends to playing golf. In the work world of 1946 finds Elmer at the Colfax Fruit Growers at Hills Flat, on Saturdays, working for the Fruit Growers is somewhat of a natural for Elmer is as thorough in his hobbies as he is his teaching career, hobbies such as chicken raising and gardening.

No one knows the hard work ahead in preparing for the coming centennial as does Stevens, the president of the Nevada County Historical Society. Stevens will tell you "We live in the heart of the gold country and Nevada County will surely be missing a bet if it doesn't start to get ready now for the thousands of tourists that will be coming our way."

Elmer would like to eventualy earn his living from his writings. In this ambition he is well qualified, being at the moment correspondent for the Sacramento Union, and also doing considerable free lance writing.

Direct in his answers Stevens did not hesitate whhen asked "What do you consider the smartest thing you ever did?" "Marrying Miss Marguerite Brotnov." The Stevens' have one son, Jan.

Grass Valley Realty Will Be Re-Assessed

The Grass Valley City Council has employed Fred Weatherwax and J. H. Buhl at $250 per month each to re-assess all real property in Grass Valley limits. It is expected they will begin their work tomorrow.

The city council attributing their denial to a lack of funds, declined to add to the $80 per month now granted for the maintenance and operation of the Hills Flat California Highway Patrol radio station, KAPI. It was pointed out that Grass Valley receives 75 per cent of radio calls. The council agreed to discuss the question of more funds at a later date.

Elks Barn Dance Will Attract Hundreds Saturday

The largest crowd in years is expected at the Elk's 47th Anniversary Party and Annual Barn Dance this Saturday night at the Elks Club in Nevada City.

The party in the form of a dinner dance will have professional and local entertainers. Jerry Austin and his full six piece band will provide the dance music.

GOODYEARS BAR MATRON DIES OF INSECT STINGS

Mrs. Emma Verna Griffith of Goodyears Bar, Sierra County, died Tuesday at the Goodyears Bar Hotel, of yellowpacket stings. Phil Newburg, coroner, stated death was caused by allergic shock.

Mrs. Griffith, 41, yas Goodyears Bar postmaster for several years. She was a native of that locality.

Tuesday morning she had finished planting some flowers in her garden when she decided to pull a few weeds growing around the steps of the house. This disturbed a nest of yellowjackets of the variety that live in the ground and Mrs. Griffths was severely stung.

She hurried to the hotel, where there is a telephone, to call aid. At 11:35 a. m. before a physician could arrive from Downieville, she died.

Max Solaro and Albert S. Bates of the Nevada City Fire Department were summoned in the hope that resuscitation might be of avail. They applied a resuscitator, but it was too late. Solaro and Bates, the former driving, covered the 46 miles of tortuous road in one hour, including a several mile detour through back country beginning at Log Cabin and ending at Camptonville.

Mrs. Griffiths, extremely allergic to bee stings, had once before been stung, and had summoned help at the Goodyears Bar hotel. On that past occasion, effects of the sting had rendered her unconscious, but she made a successful recovery.

Funeral services, in charge of Holmes Funeral Home took place this morning at 10 o'clock in the Downieville Catholic Church. Reverend Virgil Gabrielli conducted the service.

Interment was in the Goodyears Bar Cemetery.

Mrs. Griffiths leaves a son, James Sutherland of Quincy, Plumas County, and a daughter, Mrs. William Bishop of Goodyears Bar, and a son Dennis Elgin Griffiths, age two.

TWIN CITY RADIO STATION DECISION DUE

Upshot of the recent Federal Communications hearing in the county court house was that the Nevada City-Grass Valley area will have in the future its own privately owned commercial radio station. The ownership of the station will be decided by the FCC after 30 days.

Testimony taking occupied two days time in the supervisor's room of the Nevada County court house. Evidence was taken by the FCC under the direction of Examiner Hugh Hutchison and Attorney Dee Pinock of Washington, D. C.

Ownership of the proposed station will be awarded to either the 49er Broadcasting Company or the Town Talk Broadcasting Company. Ownership of the Town Talk Broadcasting Company is vested in Southern California interests, of which Robert W. LeMonte. it's station manager will become a resident of Grass Valley if his company is awarded the FCC decision.

Local ownership will control the 49er Broadcasting Company with shares being held by Earl Caddy, H. W. Westbrook, Jack Keegan, Carlton Thomas, John Colling and Robert Ingram.

Evidence and exhibits of both companies followed a fairly identical pattern. Exhibits showing financial responsibility, experience in operating stations, characters of stockholders, were offered by both contestants.

If successful the 49er Company will have John Colling as its general manager and Howard J. Smiley its station manager. Robert LeMont would become station manager for the Town Talk Company.

Owners of the Town Talk Broadcasting Company are Robert Le Mond, F. Clinton Jones and Clarence Fisher.

Victor Tamietti, Armistice Day chairman for Hague-Thomas- Hegarty Post No. 130, American Legion announced today that plans for a three day Armistice celebration are nearly complete.

On Saturday night, November 9, the Legion will hold its annual Armistice Day dance. All veterans of the Nevada City-Grass Valley community have been invited to attend a special Armistice Day service at the Emmanuel Episcopal Church, conducted by Reverend Frank Buck.

The Armistice Day parade will start at 10 a. m. November 11th with many civic organizations participating. Chester Gannon, Sacramento assemblyman, will speak at 11 a. m. Services at the Veterans Memorial building.

Probation Officer A. W. McGagin stated Tuesday that he had sent an all points bulletin on the Hills Flat California Highway Patrol radio warning motorists against picking up two Peardale youths, who had held up Mrs. Lester Dilts of that section, ordered her to strip, and finally robbed her of her purse, at the point of a .22 caliber rifle.

The two youths sought are Lawrence Smith, 15, and Joe Cosgrove, 17, both of Peardale, an orchard district along the Grass Valley-Colfax highway. Mrs. Dilts reported the two youths had called at the Dilts home Monday aternoon, and after a normal conversation, ordered her to go into the bedroom and strip. She told McGagin that she talked them out of it but after a conversation they finally asked if she had any money.

She directed them to the mantel of the living room where her purse lay. They took it and after threatening her with death if she reported the robbery to the police or to her husband, discharged their gun into the ceiling and left.

Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen and deputies, District Attorney Ward Sheldon and Probation Officer McGagin were immediately notified and a search was made throughout this district. No trace of the two boys was found. Tuesday it was decided to send out the bulletin warning all motorists of the two armed youths. According to Mrs. Dilts her stolen purse contained a check for $157 unendorsed to her husband, beside a dollar bill and some small charge.

Mrs. Dilts still highly nervous said the two youths, after conversation regarding their horses, suddenly turned hostile. Joe pointed the gun at her and ordered her to go into the bedroom and strip. She said she was frightened but knew that she must keep her head.

"I asked them what they wanted," said Mrs. Dilts, "if it was money they wanted. That seemed to give them a new lead. They considered, but kept the gun leveled on me or my little son Cliffie. Joe turned to Lawrence Smith, and said: "Well let's get it over with." and handed the gun to Lawrence. I tried to think what I would do. Every time I made a little motion they would point the gun at Cliffe, my little son.

"They declared, after I had pointed out where my purse was, and they taken it, that they would come back and kill me and my little son if I notified the police or told my husband.

"I have left my son, five years old with his grandmother and will leave him there until I know that those boys are in safe keeping."

As the Nugget went to press no trace had been found of the fugitive boys.

National Hotel Sold to George E. Murphy

The 78 room historic National Hotel in Nevada City was this week sold by Richard Worth to George E. Murphy. Murphy who was raised on the San Juan Ridge is an experienced hotel man, having started out as a bell-hop in the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco.

George E. Murphy who has taken charge of the National also owns the Shasta Springs Resort in Siskiyou County. Mrs. Adelaide Jones, desk clerk at the National is a sister of Murphy.

The National Hotel was erected 83 years ago. The National remains as it has down through the years the headquarters for mining men and for tourists visiting the heart of the gold mining country.

The National still reains its

TRY THIS SLUG IN YOUR PARKING METER

The salesman who sold Nevada City on the idea of parking meters was a mighty sharp article to do his stuff when the summer trade was at its height.

The way the streets look right now, parking, unfortunately, is NOT a problem. From present indications, the meters, if they are installed in the immediate future as provided by the contract. will be talking to themselves during those frosty days in January and February.

The salesman had a smart sense of timing. If he was talking today, we predict he'd have tougher going than a model T backing up Nevada Street after a heavy snow.

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder when the day is past
And all our favorites elected,
If we will smile and blandly say,
"Egad, the best men were elected".
We voters surely do our part
To purify the nation's heart.

It will be but a few days now until the last vote is counted and we, the voters, know all. Some of us will be highly elated, while others will wring their hands and moan, "how can the people be so blind?"

We can't expect that all of our particular favorites will be elected, or that all the neophites of evil will be turned out and all the paragons of virtue sworn in; so let's consider as we survey the duly elected, that no man could possibly be so pure, so wise and so competent as his campaign managers proclaimed him to be, or so evil, foolish and innocuous as his political enemies wuld have us believe.

These men whom we, the sovereign people have assigned to various posts of honor, are just people; they will make mistakes, they will measure up to ur expectations in some matters and disappoint us in others. Now that they are what they are by the will of the majority we should give them a break. Why not supend judgement until they have had time to adjust themselves to their new jobs or settle gracefully back into the old ones? Perhaps a little standing by on the part of their constituents would encourage and inspire them to the part of their constituents would encourage and inspire them to the efficiency of action which the nation needs and demands at this time.

Why not buy a little blank book and keep the record of those in whom we are especially interested? Then we could look in the book and see and having seen know of our own knowledge and do our own thinking, unbiased by the sounding brass and tinkling cymbals of political controversy. Yes, the elected are just men—"they are good and bad, they are weak and strong, wise, foolish and so am I."

I wonder what the delegates to the general assembly of nations will think of our troubled domestic scene. We may look upon strikes, lock outs and jurisdictional disputes as "democracy in action," but will our visitors see them in the same light? Will they feel somewhat confused?

We are hoping that other nations may accept our ideals of government and become truly democratic in principle and in action and when we are able to compose our national disputes, put our house in order and put our democracy upon a firm and sure foundation, other nations will observe and desire to follow suit.

Uncle Si says; "Neighbor Benson sings Home on the Range at the top of his voice and then turns around and tells every one he meets that the world is growing worse every day and there is nothing that can keep it from going to the bow wows. Imagine him living where 'never is heard a discouraging word.' —Adeline Merriam Conner.

MAIN AT MILL

By BOB PAINE

People who write columns are like people who live in glass houses but isn't that a new way to spell armistice in the football poster in Jefford's window and isn't one "T" all that is necessary in "Britain" in the Girl Scout window in Golden Rule Store?

It's been a long time since you have seen a Republican smile. But take a look at two Nevada County Campaign Managers — Raymond Clinch and Elton Williams. There's no denying they know the way the wind is blowing and that this is a Republican year. Clinch's campaign for Knowland and Williams' campaign or Howser are both moving into high gear. "Champ" who has taken past political beatings is sure he has a winner this time.

We offer this week's toast to Mr. and Mrs. Byron Brock who have generously donated a display room in their new Nevada City highway motel to house a collection of the Nevadda County Historical Society. These irreplacable documents will soon be available for enjoyment by residents and tourists alike.

The election draws near. Candidates get off soap boxes, the tumult and the shouting dies. The power of the veterans vote in Nevada County is being tested on Proposition No. 2. Because it proposes to help veterans it may appear strange that locally all veterans organizations are strongly opposed to it. It is to the credit of the VFW and the Legion that they are more concerned with community prestige than with the increasing of their treasuries from the coffers of greyhound racing.

Main and Mill echoes the Nugget editorial of a week ago urging the planting of maple trees on next Arbor day. We haven't had a traveller here since fall commenced that hasn't gone home raving about the autumn colorings. Think what technicolor hillsides we would have in ten years. October would be to the Sunday driver with its flaming maples what May has been with its golden scotch broom. Again we urge—plant a maple.

A brickbat to the leaders of the Boy Scout Drive for funds. With the drive half over the Grass Valley total is but 31% in, and Nevada City a paltry 10%. In comparison the Girl Scouts are well organized with excellent window displays in many store windows.

Miss Ruth Mickelson Weds Charles E. Brown

Miss Ruth Mickelson and Charles E. Brown were wed in a candlelight ceremony last fortnight in the Emmanuel Episcopal Church by the rector, Rev. Frank Buck.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, S. A. Talboe. She wore a white satin gown with a bow neckline and net yoke. Her sleeves were long and pointed at the wrist. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a shower boquet of gardenias and an orchid.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Max McCall, sister of the bride. She was attired in American Beauty red and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and bouvardia. Miss Everil Clemo and Mrs. George Bertonini were bridesmaids wearing matching dresses in pale blue.

Best man was Kenneth Adams, and ushers were Albert Murray and Albert Buchanan of Nevada City. A reception followed the wedding at the home of Mrs. Bessie Fuller of South Church Street.

The bride graduated from Mount St. Mary's Academy in 1940. She has been employed by the Nevada Irrigation District for five years. The bridegroom is the grandson of Mrs. Bessie Fuller of South Church Street. He is employed in the office of the Idaho Maryland Mines Corporation.

LEGION AND VFW DENOUNCE NO. 2

A united front against Proposition Number Two by Nevada County veterans organizations was accomplished Tuesday night when the American Legion publicly joined the Veterans of Foreign Wars in denouncing the measure.

Commander Lloyd Garrison of Banner Post No. 2655 of Nevada City gained permission of Commander Victor Taminetti of Legion Post No. 130 to explain the unusual stand the local VFW had taken contrary to their state department which had endorsed the measure.

Garrison explained his post did not want to be a party to any fund gathering agency that was concerned with gambling. He explained that he felt that the citizens of these two towns were against the measure in spite of the constant radio blasts in favor of it with their appeal for public support through purported veteran sympathy.

He was followed on the floor by VFW members Joseph Day, Robert Paine and Howard Bennetts who spoke against the measure as being only another method to cash in on the veteran vote.

Support from the American Legion was immediately forthcoming when McKinley Lotz, Lee Sonnenberg and Victor Taminetti spoke against the proposition. The American Legion, which refused to originally endorse the measure, joined with the VFW to do all in their power to round up a resounding No vote on the greyhound measure next Tuesday.

Sugar And Rice Left Under Control

Removal from price control of all foods and beverages except sugar and sugar solutions including syrup and molasses, corn sugar and corn syrup and rough and milled rice has been announced by the OPA. The action became effective October 24.

At the same time price controls were lifted from all sales of food and beverages by resaturants and other sellers.

Today's action completes the removal of price control on all raw and processed foods, both domestic and imported and all beverages including whiskey, beer and soft drinks with the exceptions mentioned above.

Price controls on sugar and rice are being retained because it is necessary to keep them to implement the present rationing and setaside programs of these critically short commodities. If sugar were taken off price control while the supply is so scarce, it is believed that high bidding by users and buyers would exert too great pressure on the rationing controls. Similarly, failure to maintain price controls on rice would make the present set aside unworkable and unenforceable. Most of the set aside rice is committed ot domestic and foreign areas producing sugar for the United States.

FOUNDATIONS

You should make sure the foundations of your house go deeper into the ground than the greatest depth to which the soil freezes in your locality. Otherwise the wet ground under the foundation will raise the weight above it when it freezes and lower the house when it thaws, causing the structural members of the home to crack.

Schools Here To Receive $169,000

Elementary school districts in Nevada county will receive $169,000 from the state treasury for the current 1946-47 school year, based on avarage daily attendance of 1861 pupils. FOOD FREEZING PLANT SOON TO BE ERECTED

Work of excavating for big plant for frozen foods will begin this week on the Lake Olympia Road on ground next to the Farmers Market. The plant is expected to cost $50,000, it is announced by the three partners engaged in the enterprise.

The partners are Albert E. Bergman, experienced in food progessing, Joseph Long recently discharged from the armed service and Anders G. Montin, an engineering consultant of Napa County.

The building, it is stated, will be equipped with the latest machinery for freezing fruits, vegetables and meats, to serve western Nevada County and eastern and central Placer County. Rental lockers will be constructed for the use of residents in the Nevada City-Grass Valley area.

The three men engaged in the enterprise plan to erect their homes in the vicinity of the plant.

COSTLY PRACTICAL JOKE

KANSAS CITY, —Robert Throckmorton, a butcher obtained the wrapping paper for a ham, stuffed it and placed the dummy package in the rear window of his car so he could observe the envious reactions of passersby.

He forgot to remove it overnight. Next morning the fake ham had disappeared—and the thief had smashed one of Throckmorton's car windows in the process of taking it.

There are those who hold attempting to revive the corpse of the OPA was unwise. They say it stinks.

CAVITY WALL CONSTRUCTION

The new "cavity wall" construction in which a breathing space is held between two layers of exterior wall material has many advantages. It requires less material than solid walls of comparable thickness, and permits the direct application of plaster to the inner walls. And it has insulating properties, prevents the moisture penetration and provides protection from fire and the elements.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Friendship—Three Thousand Miles Apart

Ever play chess? It's a great game! One of the strongest friendships I know of started with a game of chess—between Dad Hoskins, in our town, and a man named Dalton Barnes, in England.

They've never seen each other, never met. But for the past eight years they've been playing chess by mail together — Dad puzzling over Dalton's latest letter, while he sends a chart of his next move to England.

Dad always thinks best with a mellow glass of beer beside his chessboard. And the Englishman writes him that he does the same. "You know, it's almost as if we shared a glass of beer together, too!" says Dad contentedly.

From where I sit, you can talk about diplomacy and foreign policy, but it's often those little things —like a game of chess or a glass of beer—that can make for tolerance and understanding . . . between people of all nations . . . between neighbors here at home!

"Thank you...neighbors..."

"I don't know who shares our party line with us . . . but my hat's off to them for their thoughtfulness and consideration. Naturally, we try to make it pleasant for them, too.

"And the result? Well, we're all getting the most out of our telephone service these busier-than-ever days!"

The Golden Rules for party line neighbors

- Space your calls instead of making a series without interruption.
- Talk only as long as you have to on each call.
- If you are calling from a dial telephone be sure not to dial until you know the line is clear.
- Ask your youngsters not to monopolize the telephone.
- Always be sure to replace the receiver properly after completing a call. Thank you.

Henry needs to be told about new lamp bulbs. He's the champion complainer about poor light around his house. But his lamp list will help him see things in the right light. • And by the way—how's the lighting in your home? If a lamp or fixture gives weak dim light, look at the light globe. It is probably darkened by long use or some bulb-snatcher has put in a dinky little bulb in its place.

• Make out a lamp shopping list today and get an assortment of right-sized bulbs for your home. Be sure to buy spares for emergencies, too.

SMOOTH IRON SOLEPLATE

An easy way to smooth the soleplate of your iron is to run the hot iron over salt sprinkled on a paper towel. Salt granules are sufficiently abrasive to clean but not scratch the soleplate. Stickiness can be removed by a light wax treatment, after which you run the warm iron over plain paper toweling.

RUNAROUND A COMEDY COMING TO LOCAL SCREEN

In contrast to her recent roles, screen star Ella Raines has embarked on a new phase of her career and is entering the light comedy field. As Penelope the willful heiress, Ella leads Rod Cameron on one of the most exasperating chases in cinema history in Universal's "The Runaround". In the new film playing Friday and Saturday nights at the Broadway Theatre. Ella proves that she is as much a comedienne as she was dramatic actress in "The Serpent" and "Uncle Harry."

She portrays Penelope with ingenuity and inventiveness. In fact, it was Ella who contributed the splash ending to the Universal film.

The original fadeout to the picture was an impassioned embrace and kiss, featuring the co-stars Rod and Ella at the edge of a swimming pool. The proximity of the pool and its comedy possibilities were too much for Ella and when the scene was being filmed she leaned over a little too far—kersplash!

Narrow Escape Of Ed Hurlbut's Dog

The Grass Valley Fire Department saved Ed Hurlbut's dog from drowning when the animal fell into an unused 16 foot well under a house while chasing a skunk.

Fire Chief Les Cicogni and past Fire Chief Clair Hughes squirmed under the house with a rope, and after throwing the dog a box so he could get out of the water, managed to hoist him to safety.

The dog was so tired he collapsed several times before making his way out from under the house after being rescued.

Sugar Stamp Good For Another Month

Spare stamps nine and 10 good for five pounds each of home canning sugar, will continue to be valid through November 30, the OPA announced today. Both stamps were to expire October 31.

Following the recently announced decision on a joint United States department of Agriculture OPA program western best sugar into eastern deficit areas, today's action is the second 30 day extension granted by OPA to permit housewives to receive their fair share of sugar.

In granting today's extension OPA pointed out that local area shortages of sugar had developed largely because of the maritime strike. Today's measure it is expected will permit housewives who have been unable to obtain home canning sugar to finish putting up the last fruits of the canning season.

Included in the sermon are these citations:

Isaiah 55:7: Let the wicked forsake his way and the unrighteous man his thoughts and let him return unto the Lord and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God for he will abundantly pardon.

Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy The destruction of sin is the divine method of pardon. Divine life destroys death, truth destroys error and love destroys hate. Being destroyed sin needs no other form of forgiveness. (p. 339).

SUDDEN RISE IN VALUE

Henderson put his wallet containing $80 on a bush when he started to mow a meadow. When he returned the wallet was gone.

COUNTY HAS FIVE POLIO CASES IN FIVE YEARS

C. H. Barker, chairman of the Nevada County Polio Committee stated that Nevada County has had only five cases of infantile paralysis since January 1942.

"In that time" said Barker "polio has often been epidemic in many parts of the United States. Of the five cases we have cared for, three were children who had the disease in a mild form, the other two cases were mature women, one of whom had come recently from Texas and the other from South Dakota.

"In my opinion, this is a wonderful showing for Nevada County."

National Hotel Sold To Former Nevada Countyan

charming atmosphere of the gold rush era, when as headquarters for stage lines connecting the county seat with innumerable gold camps of the Sierra Nevada, it was a famous center of gold mining activities.

From the lobby were announced the departure of four and six horse stages for the boom camps of Red Dog, You Bet, Dutch Flat, Gold Run, Yankee Jim, Rough and Ready, Anthony House, French Corral, Timbuctoo, Brandy City and even to far Virginia City which in the "sixties" was "only 18 hours by stage from Nevada City."

In the lounge on the second floor and in many of the rooms are antiques, relics of pioneer days, which testify not only to the artistry but to the honest workmanship of the craftsmen.

The National Exchange as it was first called opened its doors under the direction of Lancaster and Hasey in March, 1864. After several changes in management it was sold to the well known Rector Brothers by whom it was operated until 1924 when F. C. Worth purchased the structure and since his death has been successfully operated by his son, Richard Worth.

Even today may be seen the National Hotel register of 1869 replete with the names of the great. Here are found the signatures of early day mining engineers, actresses and actors, soldiers, heroes and the mighty politicians of generations ago.

A writer in "Leslie's Weekly" in 1902 stated:

"One of the curious sights in California which every trevaller goes to see is the bar in the principal hotel at Nevada City, made of California laurel. The bar was placed there in 1864. The wooden top of the bar was something like eight inches thick when it was first built. Now it is worn down to less than two inches. (1902). L. D. Calkins, who went to California before the 49er days says that over $8,000,000,000 has passed over the counter of the bar."

Today the upto date dining room has long since replaced the ancient barroom but section of the historic laurel bar are part of the coffee counter.

Richard Worth, the former owner will continue to make his home in Nevada City, but has no immediate business plans. Worth made the National a welcome place for the frequent meetings of Nevada City social and fraternal life.

The new owner with his vast experience gained in the hotel business in San Francisco, Chicago, and the Hawaiian Islands plans to operate the National Hotel and Coffee Shop in a modern up to date manner.

Automobile brakes should be checked at regular intervals even though they appear to be in good condition. Any abnormal loss of brake fluid may indicate leakage, which should be traced and corrected immediately.
